As the calendar pages turned to the late 70's, UCLA experienced a resurgence in the traditional campus lifestyles. Student organizations, on-campus living, career goals, financial success and the old college spirit exemplify what modern sociologists call the "me" generation.

Homecoming returns to UCLA — A crowd of about eight thousand lined the streets of Westwood to witness the revival of an old college tradition — Homecoming. Over 500 students, 12 floats and VIP's such as Chancellor Charles Young and Mayor Tom Bradley participated in the parade which took place Friday night before Saturday's UCLA-Oregon football game. First prize for best Greek float went to Tau Kappa Epsilon/Kappa Kappa Gamma for their rendition of UCLA's victory over Oregon (Below). Theta Xi rivaled UCLA's "solid gold sound" as the "original Trojan Band" (Below, left).

If it's played with a ball, an oar, in the water, on the track or on the mats, UCLA has a team for it, and chances are it's a winning one. In a year where it looked like UCLA would go to the Rose Bowl, and where the basketball team was rated number two in the nation in the pre-season polls, no one could complain of the lack of competitive promise which keeps UCLA sports in the national news almost every day.

Sports of the Year

On the fashion conscious Westwood campus, many coeds dress in the latest fashions hot off the presses of Vogue magazine. Whether it is the trendy punk-rock look or the classic tweed blazer, long skirt and boot look, UCLA girls are definitely into dressing.

National Lampoon's "Animal House", the hit movie released in the summer of 1978 had its effect. Toga parties are the newest trend to emerge among many others. 50's style beer busts and 60's style partying blend in a perfect harmony as happy days are here again.

Some of the men on campus have moved toward the preppy collegiate look. This look includes a wardrobe of Top-Sider shoes, a grand selection of La Coste shirts, and sweaters to be worn around the neck.

The fitness trend has had a big influence on the student's mode of dress. The casual, athletic style is a common look on the campus. Any time of the year is the time for a tennis dress, jogging shorts, a warm-up suit and, of course pair of Nike's.

ANIZATIONS

SLC? No, it's not a spoonful of letters from a bowl of Alphabet Soup. But just what is it, anyway?

Well . . . SLC is the Student Legislative Council. Now you may wonder, what's that thing all about?

Actually, the recipe for an SLC is quite simple: take one President, add two Vice-Presidents, stir in three General Representatives, and season with seven Commissioners. (Note: above ingredients must be minimum Grade C undergraduate students in good standing).

There are also three non-students thrown in for good measure: a representative from the Academic Senate, one from the Alumni Association, and a spokesman for the Chancellor. (Naturally, we don't vote on these folks—we just add them in).

To top off the creation, garnish with two final ingredients: one student chairman of the Finance Committee (he watches over the recipe's budget), and one Executive Director of ASUCLA (he appears in the recipe only on rare occasions—usually when the pot's about to boil over). These last two folks are what you call "ex-officio" members of SLC which in English means they don't vote—they just talk and spice things up a bit.

When you throw them all together, you get a Student Legislative Council, plain and simple. Only it's not always so plain or so simple. You see, each year the recipe comes out just a bit different than before. Some times you might end up with a watered-down broth, while other years you'd think you had a pot of chile on your hands. This year's batch was, well, basically a middle-of-the-road stew, although they did have their spicy moments.

Anyway, enough of this culinary funny business . . . let's get on to the meat of the subject. . . . .

. . . politics at UCLA have become a big, loud, and colorful rite each Spring. In fact, if it weren't for that even bigger, louder, and more colorful event, Mardi Gras, (which has an uncanny way of happening simultaneously), undergraduate elections would be even more noticeable than they already are.

At UCLA the month of April brings not only showers of rain, but also a downpour of buttons, campaign literature, Bruin Walk billboards, and all the other paraphernalia and hoopla that is part of "election fever" here on campus. (Remember, that's when you have to dodge those crazy human "sandwich signs" to avoid the flood of campaign leaflets as you traverse Bruin Walk). It's really quite a scene.

But campaigning is only the first step. For after all the votes are in and counted, and the new crop of decision-makers are sworn into office, that's when it all begins.

This year's Council, as in the past, was headquartered in the top floors of Kerckhoff Hall; in fact, the 1978-79 Student Legislative Council marked its 60th year as UCLA's chief undergraduate governing body. SLC followed tradition as it met through the Summer months to develop plans and ideas for the upcoming year, and to adopt its annual budget (nearly half of a million dollars); somewhere in there they also found time to go on a Retreat.

By the time most of us returned for Fall Quarter, in fact, SLC had already established most of its goals — as well as a character all its own. This 60th Council Session contrasted significantly with past years, especially when it comes to the question of whose in charge. In past years the council President has usually had a free hand to run the whole show—no questions asked. But this year's group had its share of maverick-types who felt that responsibilities should be more decentralized, more evenly spread out. In the end, it seems that the "mavericks" won the majority over — at least for this year.

But if all that seems like too much political jargon, consider some of the concerns that were most important to this year's group. As in the past, the Student Legislative Council worked hard to gain the student vote in the Academic Senate. The Lobbies and others vigorously fought tuition hikes which loomed even more menacingly due to Proposition 13. There was a lot of concern — and effort — over the outrageous housing crunch in Westwood. And of course the parking problem wasn't ignored either, except this year's emphasis was more on transportation alternatives rather than just more parking structures.

Council worked on the question of an on-campus Pub (yes, it is coming), and it also wrestled with the ancient proposal for a Bank on campus (it's probably coming, but don't hold your breath).

Of course we had Ackerman Movies (still "one dollar a head"), the Speakers Program, concerts, and the Coffee House Entertainment. There was the Newspaper Recycling Program, the Consumer Protection Project, and the Village Food Co-op. The Community Service Commission also brought us its whole "family" of community related "outreach" efforts (despite an amazing effort by the Administration to swallow up these programs for themselves).

If all this sounds like serious stuff, it is. But that's not to say that SLC didn't have its lighter side—and even its downright funny moments. And then there were the times when SLC was the butt of the joke, only not too many people were laughing.

Like the time when the Daily Bruin caught President Dean Morehous with his pants down (and his campaign buttons up); and when those Morehous Recall Petitions and Impeachment flyers virtually swamped the campus. Or when you could practically flip a coin to guess whether SLC would get a quorum in any given week. And how about when those $1,800.00 "Special" Elections occurred so frequently they almost became annual practice runs. Or when you couldn't quite keep track of how many vacancies there actually were on Council.

But through it all, SLC managed to pull it off. And they even did so in public, such as when they held their weekly meetings in places like the Rieber Hall Fireside Lounge. In this way student government showed its best side — its human side. That's the side where people (and students) make mistakes — and where you usually learn from them.

It's a funny thing, student government. Kind of like that Bank commercial — you know, "the one's you don't have to think about." Here at UCLA we go about our business and don't give much thought to a lot of things. We take them for granted.

But end Ackerman Movies, cancel Mardi Gras, stop the Speakers Program, drop the Experimental College. Silence the student voice in the Academic Senate, at the Regent's Meetings, and in Murphy Hall. Throw in the towel on the parking problem, the housing shortage, Student Health. Forget the Bank, the Pub, and all the rest.

Then you'd notice SLC. Then you'd know what they're all about. And then we wouldn't have to tell you what they do, because you'd know for yourself.

And besides, if we didn't have student government, we'd be stuck with a different problem. Because then what would the Daily Bruin put on its front page?

Board of Control

The Board of Control is the guiding hand, sometimes called the iron fist, that sets prices, hiring policies and menus in all the student-owned ASUCLA outlets on campus.

The Board and ASUCLA employees received a setback this year when a promised raise was vetoed by Chancellor Young. Various issues before the board this year include the establishment of a pub and bank on campus and the renovating of A-level Ackerman Union.

Southern Campus - We do it once a year

If you told Southern Campus staffers last fall that there are 600 organizations at this university, we would have laughed and guessed half that number. Now we'd like to round that figure up to 6000.

Compiling a year that involved 30,000 lives into a 352 page book is no easy task. Late nights in the darkroom and early mornings in the Kerckhoff office were common experiences for the fifteen-member staff who put out the largest yearbook in eight years.

Editor Greg Masters headed up the crew, which included five full-time photographers. The theme—This is The Year—reflects the variety of moods the campus experienced this year, the fiftieth anniversary of UCLA at the Westwood campus. For the yearbook staff, it was a year of hard work, but the final product was worth every effort.

Daily Bruin – They do it daily

The Daily Bruin Staff met and killed over 130 deadlines this year as the main information source for campus brought news, sports, reviews and opinions every morning. The major issues surrounding the 78-79 year were student housing, oil on campus and the integrity of student government officials.

Student Directory

UCLA's version of the little black book is the 350 page annual student directory. It's got your number and everyone elses from Aaron to Zycher.

Financial problems haunted the Greek Times as the newspaper covering fraternity and sorority news had trouble getting off the ground. Each house had a representative on the staff, in a new move this year to have input from all Greek groups. Times editors were Andy Waxler and Bev Verna.

Comm Board carries clout

Comm Board, as it is fondly called, publishes all of UCLA's six newspapers, one yearbook, one magazine and operates a radio station.
The allocating of funds, selecting of editor-in-chiefs and ad managers, and running of all campus media organizations keeps the thirteen-member board busy. Linda Seiffert was the Board's chairperson.

KLA is on new wavelength

KLA is on a different wavelength this year as the campus radio station now broadcasts on Theta cable and reaches 40,000 homes in addition to the dormitories, Co-op and Ackerman Union.

83 on the dial, KLA features weekly music and news shows. The station has a talk show where listeners can call in and talk to Bruin and off campus personalities and a date line which acts as matchmaker.

KLA is broadening its horizons to include a live concert program. Station manager was John Teicher.

Registration Fee Committee

Ever wonder where your $234 go every quarter? That is exactly what the Registration Fee Committee helps Chancellor Young decide. Acting in an advisory capacity to the Chancellor, the committee compiles a report at the end of each school year detailing where the next year's money should be spent. The twelve member board, chaired by student Nina Ringgold, grappled with such controversial issues as funding for Child Care and experienced internal problems with the resignation of two members.

Student Lobby

Housing was the word for the student lobbies this year. UC Lobby Director Fred Gaines worked on state efforts to end housing discrimination against students. Metrolobby, under director Jeff Wallack, led a local fight to save fraternity and sorority rows from high rise construction and proposed an ordinance to the city that would cut rents for students. Dana Trapnell, as director of the National Student Lobby, worked with campuses nationwide to secure more grants and financial aid for students.

Program Task Force

Program Task Force is what one might call the little brother of the Registration Fee Committee. PTF channels reg free money to cultural, academic and social groups and events on campus. Any student can make a proposal on how to use the money as the task force is always open to new and innovative programming.

Inter-Fraternity Council

IFC is the organization that represents the campus' 24 fraternities in UCLA and outside matters. The group promotes unity among the Greek system and plays an integral part in the organization of Greek activities. Each fraternity has a representative which reports to the council. Randall Rich served as President. Above (kneeling): Jeff Zinn, Ken Grossfeld, Ernie Sullivent, Dave Shapiro, Wyle Weiman, Dan Cislo, Gary Schwartz, Quentin Gallivan.

Panhellenic Council

Panhellenic Council keeps communication lines open between sororities and the campus. The Greek group also promotes activities among the sororities. Panhellenic sponsors sorority rush each year and offers officer training programs and legal services. One special concern of the council this year was crime and rape prevention for sorority women. Maryella Hughes served as president.

Blue Key

Blue Key is a national men's honor service fraternity that recognizes students for service to the UCLA community. Though not a requirement, most are involved in Greek life, as well as in Student Government. The group throws the Annual Blue Ball and has a booth in Mardi Gras.

The Solid Gold Sound was more solid than ever this year with 275 members, making it one of the largest marching bands on the West Coast. Under the direction of Kelly James, the band marched at all home football games and followed the team north to Berkeley and east to Arizona for a Christmas Day show at the Fiesta Bowl.

And when basketball season rolled around, the Varsity Band took over playing "Hails to the Hills" at Pauley.

They also appeared at a national music convention. The Symphony Band is for less serious musicians and performed a noon concert in Schoenberg once eacy quarter. James Westbrook directs both bands.

The 1978 Bruin soccer team, undermined by the loss of eight starters including first-string goalie Bruce Sallie, finished the season with a 14-8-1 record. Unfortunately for the first time in Bruin history, the soccer team did not make the NCAA play-offs. Led by Ole Mikkelsen's 21 goal season, the young Bruins made a determined run at the playoffs by winning five of their last six games only to fall to UCSB.

This year's Water Polo season reflects a rare strategy in athletics — the experienced players redshirted while the young talent started. David Rosen, Rick Sherburne, Lyle Asaoko, Jeff Demott and Jeff Thornton sat out, waiting until next year to play their final season. At that time the team will have extraordinary talent with a full squad of experience. Although not reflected in the scores, the young team displayed a lot of talent and potential; especially in sophomore Ed Robinson, and freshmen Brian "Boogie" Black, Vince Tonne and Robin Leamy. Bob Gallishaw and Vic Katayama were particularly inspirational. Look out next year — the Bruin Water Polo team will be awesome!

The UCLA Women's Volleyball Team, coached by Andy Banachowski and Sharon McAlexander, had an excellent year. After winning the Western Regionals earlier in the season, they went on to compete in the AIAW Nationals. They finished 2nd overall in a very tight and competitive tournament. Led by Captain-setter Denise Corlett, the team's offense was extremely strong. Returning hitters Ursula Giger, Lindy Vivas, and Elaine Roque were joined by freshman hitter Linda Robertson. Claire McCarty, who played as strong as ever with her perfect sets, also returned along with power hitter Lisa Reeves.

Consistency and intensity were two very strong characteristics displayed by this year's team. Their defense was also extremely strong as shown in the final USC game: UCLA 3 / USC 0. Their 33-5 season record in itself says how strong their overall ability was. Despite their loss in the Nationals, the Bruin Women's Volleyball Team members are the Western Collegiate Athletic Association (WCAA) conference and Western Regional Champs!!!!!

Bruins Tie in Arizona

The Fiesta Bowl-bound Bruins could only dream of a white Christmas this year as the football team spent Christmas Day in sun-drenched Tempe, Arizona. And what Santa Claus left was no fiesta - a football game against the favored Arkansas Razorbacks. The expected pigskin romp turned into a defensive classic as the 15th ranked Bruins tied the 8th ranked Razorbacks, 10-10.

Lou Holtz, Razorback coach and amateur magician, had nothing up his sleeve to surprise the UCLA defense. Bruin Coach Terry Donahue pulled a switch by starting second string quarterback Steve Bukich in place of regular starter Rick Bashore. The ball did a disappearing act several times when Bukich went to the air. But on the ground, he bewitched the Razorback defense and ran in for the Bruin's only touchdown. The magic stopped when Coach Donahue's expletive on a bum call was broadcast nationwide. And Coach Donahue proved words do speak louder than actions.

The Fiesta Bowl marked the last game for several top senior players. Half-back James Owens shone brighter than the Arizona sun as he rushed for 121 yards and was the game's outstanding offensive player. It was also the end of a UCLA career for fullback Theotis Brown, noseguard Manu Tuiasosopo, cornerbacks Johnny Lin and Bobby Hosea, and three time all-American Jerry Robinson.
The Christmas Day epic made a fiesta for the some 55,000 fans and a jackpot, $430,000 to be exact, for UCLA.

Bruin Basketball Rides Hilly Road to Success

The agony and the ecstacy, the story of a basketball team that could and couldn't, played all season in Pauley Pavilion.

Directed by Coach Gary Cunningham and starring the Bruin basketball quintet, the 1978-79 basketball season was indeed an epic. A season marked by the agony of defeats to Stanford, Arizona and Washington also has it share of ecstacies in an away victory over Notre Dame, a number one rating by both national polls and the 1000th basketball win in UCLA history. Even the usually calm Coach Cunningham couldn't stay in his seat through this season.

The Bruins put on some five-star finales as the fans raved and bit their nails during more than their fair share of cliffhangers. January marked last second wins over Oregon State and Oregon. A blocked shot by David Greenwood at the buzzer saved the slim one-point lead over Oregon.

February brought USC to Pauley which proved to be not only a thriller but a heartstopper when the game went into overtime. The never-say-die Bruins pulled out the victory in the first overtime game ever played at Pauley Pavilion. When the Arizona State Sundevils came to town, they gave the Bruins a helluva time—UCLA won by scoring six points in the last nine seconds.

Following the 110-86 thrashing of Arizona, the Bruins vaulted to the top of both wire service polls, the first time since 1974.

After a disappointing loss to Washington, the Bruins pulled out a 110-102 triple overtime victory at Washington State – the game was tied 42-42 at halftime, 82-82 at the end of regulation play, 92-92 after the first overtime, and 96-96 after the second. It wasn't until late in the third overtime that Kiki Vandeweghe hit a 20 foot jumpshot and Roy Hamilton and Brad Holland made four crucial free throws to put UCLA ahead for good.

The Bruins climaxed their 23-4 season with the 1000th win in Bruin history when UCLA humbled California at Pauley, and clinched the Pac-10 title with a final conference win over Stanford – setting the stage and Pauley Pavilion for the NCAA playoffs.

The Bruins staged a real life drama in the NCAA playoffs, barely squeezing by a surprisingly stubborn Pepperdine team in the second round, 76-71. And the tragedy followed when the Bruins got snowed by De Paul in Provo, Utah to end their season and hopes for the NCAA championship. The cagers didn't die without a fight, however. Down by as many as 17 points, the Bruins pulled to within four points in the closing minutes, but fouls and inconsistent shooting killed any possibilities for a Bruin comeback victory. The saga ended 93-89.

However, one Bruin had a good day. In his final game as number 34, David Greenwood scored a career high of 36 points to become the third all-time scorer in Bruin basketball history, behind Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and Bill Walton. Greenwood in his fourth varsity year, became a two time all-American, the first Bruin to do it twice since Walton.

Greenwood's sidekick, roommate as well as teammate Roy Hamilton, became one of UCLA's top ten scorers and though he had some problems at the free throw line, came through in the clutch to secure some of those last minute wins. The best shooting guard in UCLA history, Brad Holland, rarely took a shot within ten feet because his downtown shooting ability guaranteed him two points almost every time.

The season culminated with Coach Gary Cunningham's resignation. The second year coach led the Bruins to an overall record of 50-8, five of the losses coming this season. Ex professional coach Larry Brown was named to replace Cunningham in late March. If the Bruins did one thing, they gave their fans a thriller season, winning over ten of their games by four points or less.

Defending a national championship is not among the easiest things to do. But such was the case for the UCLA women's basketball team in the 1978-79 campaign.

While at times the Bruins seemed to be in their championship form—such as a 99-80 win over USC in Pauley Pavilion to capture the WCAA title for the third consecutive year—they were plagued by inconsistency through much of the year. This, of course, was in part due to the loss of two starters from last year's championship squad; forward Ann Meyers and center Heidi Nestor, but also to, as coach Billie Moore put in on occasion, "a deficient mental attitude."

UCLA opened up the year with seven straight wins but then lost four on an early season swing through the South, only to return home to lose its first game in Pauley in almost four years, 85-81, to Louisiana Tech.

However, led by consistently strong performance by sophomore forward Denise Curry and graduating senior guard Anita Ortega, the Bruins managed to make it through the conference with a 7-1 mark—scarred only by their first loss in history to USC in the team's first seasonal meeting at the Sports Arena. The loss seemed to prove a valuable lesson for UCLA, as thereafter the Bruins appeared to begin a peak which they hopefully would carry into the AIAW post-season tournament.

RUGBY

Touted as a rebuilding year for the perennially number one rugby team in the nation, the Bruins, who lost 12 of their 15 starters from last year, looked more like they were rebuilding into another championship team. The rugby team under coach Dennis Storer have lost only eight games in their 12-year history, and beat an Australian team that had previously never lost in North America. The ruggers also whalloped Stanford in mid-season42-9; and the Cardinals usually are one of their toughest competitors.

Top Bruin players include backs Kim Johansen and Del Chipman and forwards Rob Pigott and David Otey. Chipman, who was captain and leading scorer for the past couple of seasons, played on the U.S. National team, of which Storer also coached.

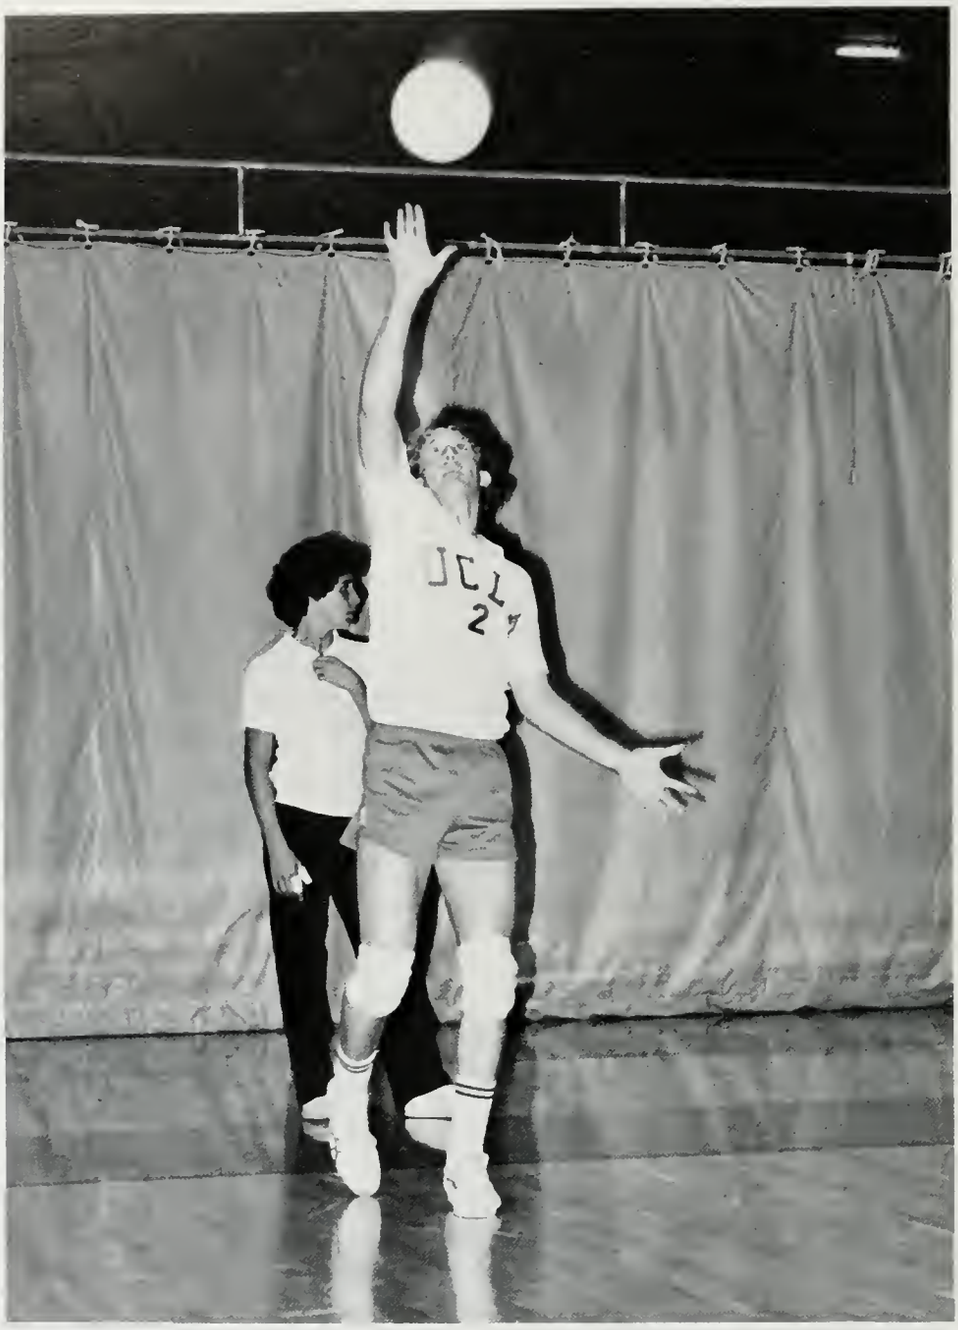
Volleyballers Set for



The biggest spike UCLA volleyballers want to make this year is the NCAA championship, something that has eluded the Bruins for two straight seasons. The stakes look good this year as 17 year veteran Coach Al Scates thinks his current team is "potentially the best we've ever had at UCLA." The team, which lost only three players from last year's runner-up, includes three-time all-American powerhitter Joe Mica, who redshirted last year, and all-Americans middleblocker Steve Salmons and setter Singin Smith. A new addition is freshman setter Karch Kiraly, who was the most sought after prep player in the country.

Wrestlers Pin Down Surprise Victories

Bruin wrestlers got everything except pinned this season as they pulled out a surprise third finish in the Pac-10 championships. Led by national champion Fred Bohna, the 20-man squad ended with a 7-5 record. Bohna, who went undefeated in conference matches, and three freshmen wrestlers, Gary Gohay, Harlan Kistler and Mark Schultz went on to represent UCLA in the NCAA championships. The team's overall record was not indicative of the season in which they finished high in several tournaments, beating out favorites. Experience will be the key to next year's success as three of the four Bruins going to the championships are freshmen.

Love

Coming off a number two national rating last season, Bruin netters had to show a lot of gut if they wanted to keep their runner-up title. Losses of the top four players, Elliot Telsher and John Austin to the pro ranks and Robbie Venter and John Paley to injury, have depleted the ranks of experience.

Fritz Buehning moved up this year to play both number one singles and doubles and Mike Harrington filled the second position in both events. Although there may be a lack of experience, there were strong performances from newcomers Dick Metz, Blaine Willenborg and Marcel Freeman.

Dedication and stamina are two prerequisites for a UCLA oarsman. 5:00 a.m. practices and year-round training are part of the program that wants to better the team's fourth place Pac-8 showing last year. Led by team commodore Ron Lovely and Jerry Fitzmorris, the Bruins featured a varsity eight, varsity four and a junior varsity eight. All boats rowed against national competition at the San Diego Crew Classic and against California competition at the Newport Regatta. In his fourth year as varisty coach, Duvall Hecht coached the 20 oarsman and 4 coxwains from their Marina Del Rey boathouse.

Sluggers Make a Big Hit

Bruin batters came off the bench swinging hot bats this season and swept number one ranked Arizona State three games straight to open up Pac-10 play. Led by right fielder Jim Auten and all-American pitcher Tim Leary, the sluggers compiled a 21-6 record before routing an always competitive USC team in three games to get a good shot at the conference championship. Coach Gary Adams, in his fifth year, had lost eight players last year to the pros but brought his team into contention behind the fielding and hitting of outfielders Dan Gausepohl and Mark Miller and shortstop Vern Followell.

Bruin strokers paced their way to a second place Pac-10 finish and a fifth place NCAA showing behind the kick of Olympic gold medalist Brian Goodell. Goodell made three NCAA records, two national records and the team broke 13 school records this season to finish with an 8-1 record. The sole loss was against a perenially strong Berkeley team. Strong performances came from Bob Placak, Dan Stevens and freshman Robin Leamy.

In what can be best described as a building year, Bruin gymnasts tumbled to their first losing season in fifteen years after finishing on top of the Pac-8 last year. Coach Art Shurlock is looking to a stronger season next year when his young team will have the more experience needed to put them back on top. Softballers Strike Up Winning Season

Defending their national championship, Bruin women softballers started off the season in top form, going undefeated in their first eight games and allowing the opponents a total of three runs. GOLF

Bruin golfers will need a stroke of luck in addition to those by the five returning first team players to catch third ranked Arizona State for the Pac-10 title.

Returning from last year's tenth ranked team include second team All-American and team captain Chuck White, second team all Pac-8 Corey Pavin, Mickey Okoi, Tom Pernece and Jeff Short.

Coach Eddie Merrins expected stiff competition from Stanford, USC and Oregon, as well as the Arizona State team. Pre-season action in nationwide tournies found the Bruins holding down fourth and fifth place finishes against top-ranked teams. In individual competition, Pavin and White finished first in several collegiate events.

Ten Thousand Bruins Find...

Ten thousand Bruins do it. Do you? UCLA's intramural program is one of the strongest amateur athletic programs in the country. Any afternoon one can find the I.M. field buzzing with activity from one of the sixty different sporting events UCLA I.M. offers – whether it be football or frisbee, soccer or softball.

...Fun,

Of the more unusual activities, innertube water polo and ultimate frisbee are two favorites. Intramural sports here are designed for both the muscle-bound athlete who runs 10 miles a day and the person who breathes hard going up Bruin Walk. There are all different levels for dormitory teams, Greek teams or any team that wants a little exercise and a good time. In addition to the team sports, there are individual tournees in raquetball, tennis and quarterly track and field events, including the annual Turkey Trot, a cross country run near Thanksgiving in which the winner gets a turkey.

Women's Soccer Shoots for a Goal

Women's soccer is up and coming at UCLA. The two year old soccer club expanded its season this year as they joined the Southern California Intercollegiate Women's soccer Association. Sporting a 3-2 record, the University Recreation Association supported club entered two collegiate tournaments in the spring. Coached by Juan Engelsen, the club is made up mostly of freshmen and newcomers as women's soccer is making its move to become a strong sport at UCLA and eventually form an athletic team.

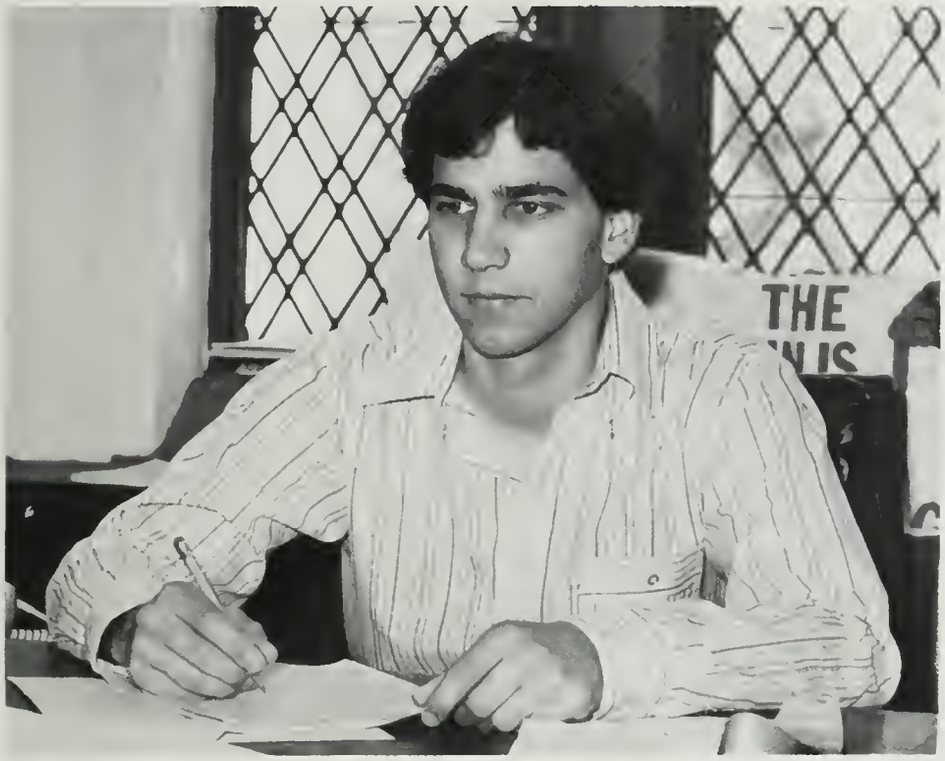
SLC Update



1978-79 was a year that brought a number of new names and new faces to the corridors of Kerckhoff Hall. In a historic move, the students voted to recall Undergraduate President Dean Morehous.

Since the vote occurred after the mid-point of the presidential term, Administrative Vice-President Marc Beilinson (pictured top left) replaced Morehous by succession, and assumed his duties on the SLC, the Board Of Control, and the statewide Student Body Presidents' Council.

James Bechtel (not pictured) was appointed by the Council to fill the vacancy in the Administrative Vice-President's Office created by Beilinson's move up to the Presidency. Bechtel had worked last year as a student Programming Assistant in the much-publicized Campus Programs and Activities Office.

A third change occurred when the well-known name of Bert Johnson made news with an announcement at Christmas-time that he would be leaving UCLA permanently to pursue other interests. Replacing Bert as a General Representative was Mitch Ostwald (not pictured), who served as last year's Director of the Campus Events Commission Speakers Program.

Also new to the Council was Lori Dawe (pictured bottom right with staff members Barry Goldberg, Art Olivas, and Neal Rabin), who moved up from Program Director to the top spot in the Cultural Affairs Commission. She was appointed by SLC to replace former Commissioner Jeff Breyer after he departed UCLA to transfer to Berkeley.

Less visible was the replacement of Dean Rick Tuttle by colleague Lyle Timmerman (not pictured) as the Chancellor's representative to the SLC. Tuttle took leave from his position on Council to run a successful Spring re-election campaign for a spot on the Community College Board of Trustees.

The dorms - A different way of life

Turkey dinners and Tommy turns, Monte Carlo Nights and midnight fire alarms are just a sampling of experiences to be lived through in a year at the the dormitories. Though rooms may be small, it has been proved that a little imagination can turn the drear into the dazzling. Though the food may not be awarded the cordon bleu, the vending machines are just a quarter away. And there are always opportunities to go to Palm Springs or Mammoth on a floor trip.

The dorms are a completely student-orientec community. The resident assistants (R.A.'s), front desk staff and dorm officers organize all the events. The main attraction each year is Monte Carlo Night when all the fun becomes Vegas style. Proceeds go to charities and not the pocket, however.

The dorms will have to have a new addition next winter when the suite complex under construction will be finished. An additional 700 students will be housed.

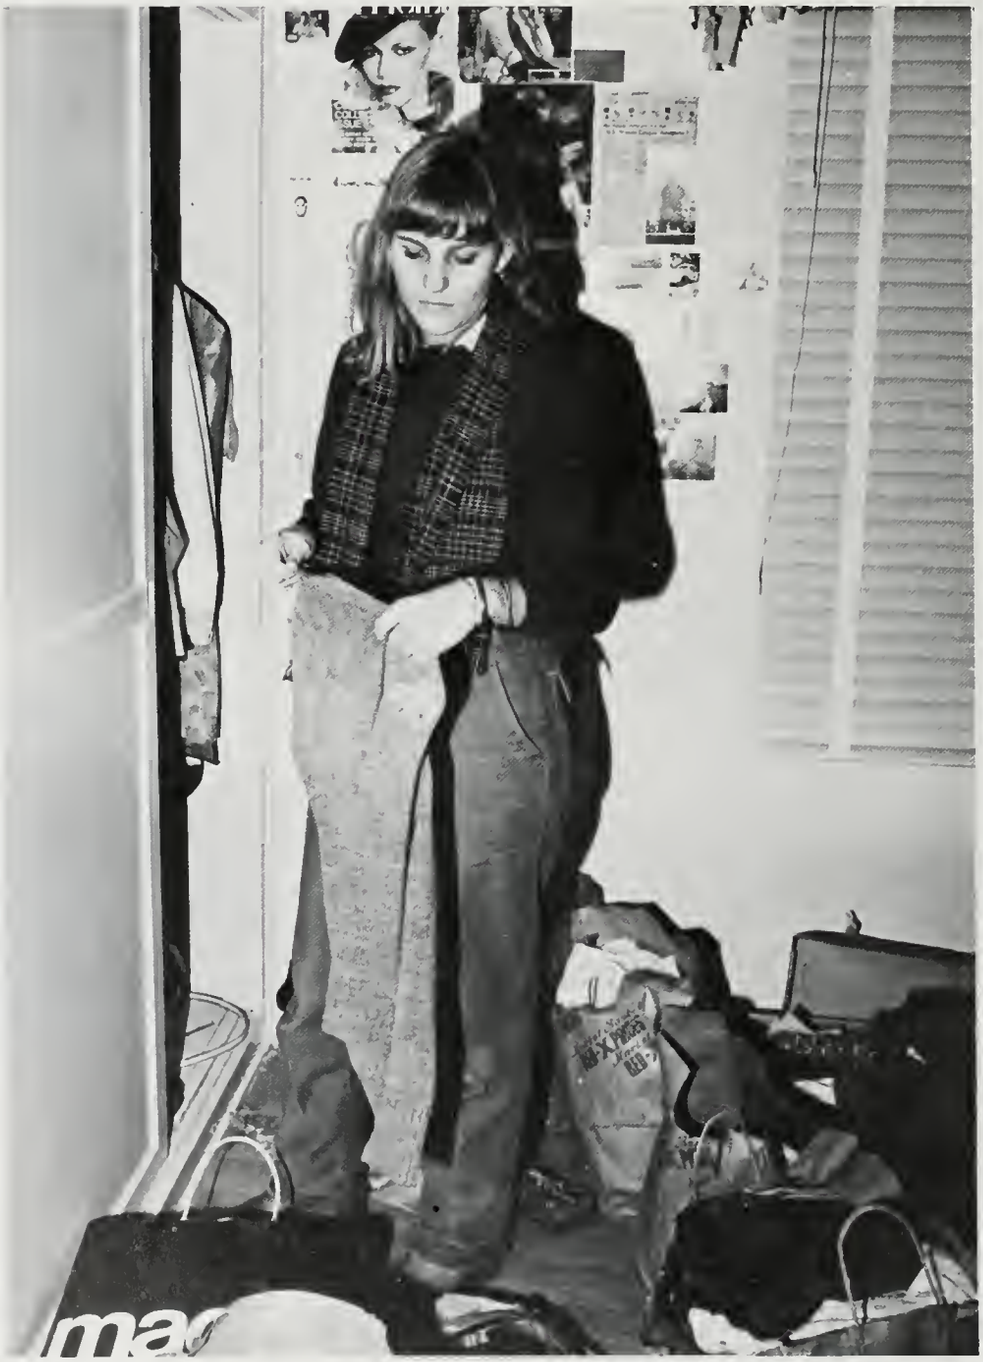
You're on your own in an apartment



This is the year of the high rise . . . Rents, luxury apartments and waiting lists are on the increase as Bruins face the bare facts of apartment living.

Although the average one-bedroom unit close to campus rents for $400 per month, students prefer to live with a lighter pocketbook than with no roof over their heads.

Corporations have bought up the few remaining lots surrounding campus and are building multi-unit complexes which will rent for multi-dollars.

But once the carpet and curtains match, it doesn't take long to reap the benefits of privacy or to settle into the routine of cooking meals, doing dishes and throwing impromptu Bruin victory bashes.

And that most frustrating routine of apartment hunting should be easier next time around due to an anti-discimination bill before the legislature. Landlords would no longer be able to turn down students without breakina the law.

It's all GREEK to me

This is the year of the return of tradition to Greek life—homecoming, the dance marathon, big rushes, the toga, and a Greek Week full of inspiration.

Over 3000 members of fraternities and sororities hailed tradition like the campus hasn't seen in twenty years.

The nostalgia craze reached all the way back to the days of Rome as fall ushered in the first annual Toga Olympics.

The Greek system played a big part in the revival of Homecoming, making floats and marching in the parade. Greek Week brought Greek Sing back out in the spotlight and the dance marathon was reborn during the 36-hour epic in Ackerman Union. And the annual Greek tradition which has never been lost, Mardi Gras, turned the intramural field into a real Animal House for one week-end.

Starting with one of the biggest rushes ever in September, UCLA Greek community has grown in reputation and size to become one of the largest in the nation.

Inter-Residence Hall Council

Cutting budgets to keep dorm fees to a minimum was the main goal of the Inter Residence Hall Council this year. The council, consisting of the four dorm presidents, managed to chop the several million dollar dorm budget by $70,000. On the campus scene, IRHC sponsored dances and movies and made endorsements for the spring student government elections.

Mom, Dad - I'm accepted! ! !
Fine. Where are you going to live?
Live?
You know, sleep, eat and study?
Oh! In the dorms of course.
That should be a familiar conversation to some 5000 past and present dormies. To continue . . .
Hey sis, what's a Hendrix? Any relation to Jimmi?
No, dummy. It's Hedrick.
Is it a good place to live?
Oh ya. It's right next to the pool and it's where all the cute swimmers live. It's called the Top of the Hill but it should be the Top of the Mountain.

Is this one in a swamp? How come they call it Ribbit?
It's Rieber.
What do they do at Ribbit? — Croak. I mean Rieber.
Oh! They have some of the wildest dances.
Music - allright. Supertramp ever play there?
Just on the stereo. The main attraction is Captain Disco.
Gosh these dorms have funny names. What is this one - Sprout?
Sproul. That's where you should live. It's where all the freshmen do their stuff.
What kind of stuff?
Blast stereos, dance in the streets, eat pizza at their own pizzaria and they even go parachuting on the weekends.
Well, there is one more - Dykstar. That must be where all the sci-fi freaks hang out.
Try Dykstra. It's where all the football players live.
How do you know?
Anyone can tell by all the holes in the doors and walls.
Gosh, where should I live if I am a swimming, discoing, pizza eating freshman football fan?
If you don't mail that application in the next second, you're not going to have to worry. You're not going to have a place to worry about.

Brown Visits UCLA

OCTOBER –
Chancellor Young (left page) played host to over 2000 students at the first freshmen reception held in 20 years. The occasion marked the fiftieth freshmen class to enter UCLA at the Westwood campus. Besides a handshake from the head man, students were also treated to refreshments and a disco dance.
Governor Brown, (above) in the midst of heavy campaigning for the re-election, swung by UCLA on a sunny day to tell over 5000 students he is not in favor of UC tuition and he doesn't attend many Regent's meetings because they are boring. The governor also enlightened the crowd to the fact, in his own words, that he is not running for President in 1980.

NOVEMBER –

Talking Heads, (right) gave a free outdoors concert on a Sunday afternoon which drew 10,000 people from all walks of life.

JANUARY –

FEBRUARY –

In their first American appearance, the British group Sad Cafe (above) played to over 1000 students.
Chevy Chase, former Saturday Night Live host, (opposite page) was awarded UCLA's third annual Jack Benny award for outstanding achievement in the field of entertainment. A Royce Hall packed to the rafters found his jokes and crazy antics indeed outstanding, as he received a standing ovation.
Daniel Ellsburg, (right) famous for his involvement with the Pentagon Papers, came to speak out against the university's involvement in the development of nuclear arms.

The world renowned French mime Marcel Marceau, (above) proved to UCLA that one expression is worth a thousand words, as he did his repetoire of mimes, including his famous character Bip, for two nights in Royce Hall.
Al Jarreau, (right) jazzed his audience with original pieces and unique compositions.

MARCH

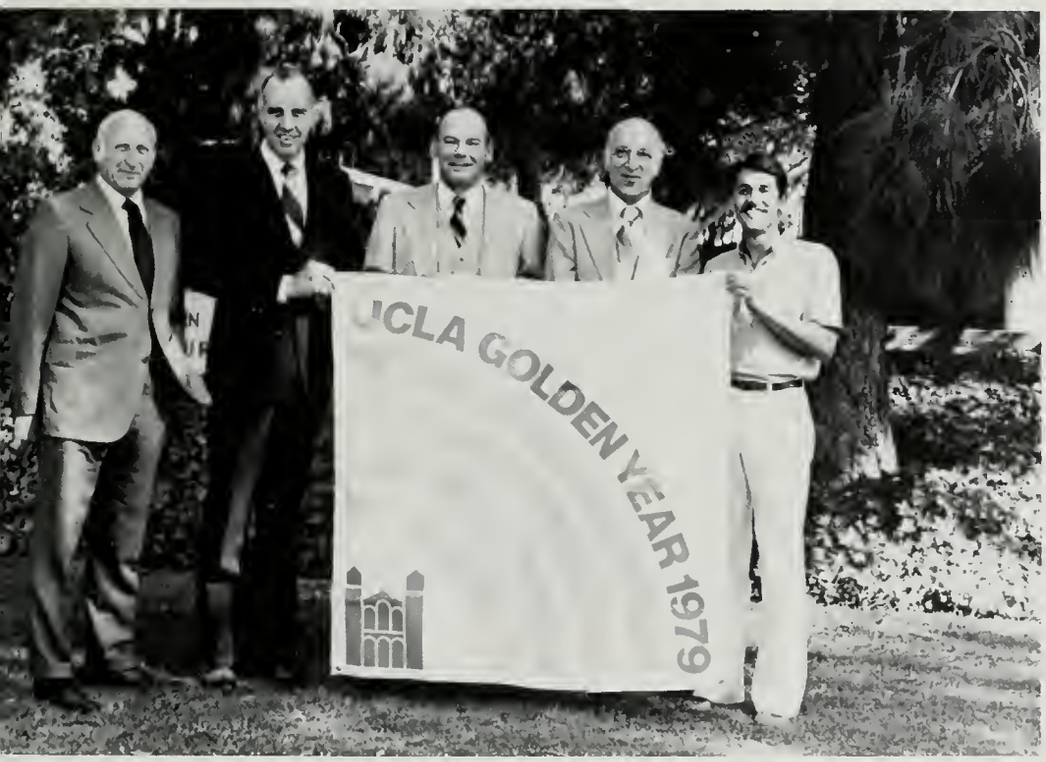
APRIL

The evening of the first day of classes brought the rock group "Tubes" to Royce Hall, on a tour promoting their new album. The group entertained thousands of concertgoers with their explosive style and "tounge in transistor" parodies of several modern TV shows.



Later in April, "A Cry of Players" opened at MacGowan Hall's Little Theater (above). The play, portraying William Shakespeare during the early part of his life, was run totally by UCLA students involved in scenery, lighting, costuming and advanced Theater Lab courses.

Mardi Gras
Once a year for three short days in April, UCLA is magically transformed into one big fun house. The nerves and pressures of school give gladly away to the chills and excitement of the carnival rides, mystery rooms, and live student entertainment. This was the year of the 38th annual Mardi Gras and was highlighted by over 25 booths and rides specializing in everything from frisbees and ferris wheels to horrors at the haunted house and burlesque at Minsky's. Two new attractions were a clown factory and the Turf Club where people could bet on taped horse races. The proceeds, which exceeded $100,000, go to Unicamp, a camp for underprivileged children which is sponsored by the UCLA student body. Competitions are held for the most original and moneymaking booths run by a variety of campus groups — sororities, fraternities, dormitories and on-campus clubs. Mardi Gras has definitely become an institution at UCLA.

PRINTING NOTES:
This edition was printed by Josten's/American Yearbook Company, Visalia, California. All pages were prepared camera-ready by the Southern Campus staff, and all but a few of the photos were printed on Kodak Polycontrast Rapid RC paper, "F" surface by our photography staff. All type was set on Comp-set 500 machines, in Avant-Garde medium. Photographs were reproduced using 150-line halftone screens.
